

...takes more than just expertise in your field. In fact, staying competitive today means focusing on all aspects of your business. But who has the time and knowledge to manage both their business needs and their customers?

At Grant Thornton, our aim is to focus on your business so you can focus on your practice.

Spend more time on your clients – less time on your business

With all the time you spend helping your clients – it can be tough making informed decisions during key stages of your business growth. Whether it's securing financing or raising capital, considering an acquisition, optimizing cash flow, minimizing tax, or even reviewing strategic performance, having an experienced adviser can go a long way towards securing success.

That's where Grant Thornton can help. With 60 years experience serving Canadian professionals both large and small, you can feel confident knowing both your business and your clients are getting the attention they deserve.

What can Grant Thornton do for you?

Succession and estate planning

There is no time like the present to plan for the future. To maximize your estate planning, Grant Thornton tax specialists will work to ensure that the value of your estate is maximized, and your loved ones pay a minimal amount of tax. With tax laws and other applicable legislation changing frequently, even if you have engaged in estate planning in the past, we can help you answer the difficult questions, and provide you with the best present day solutions for your estate.

Regulation and compliance

Do you have time to learn the complexities of tax? Regulation and compliance is becoming increasingly complex at both national and international levels. With extensive experience in domestic tax compliance, international tax, indirect tax, transfer pricing, financial regulation, and compliance reporting with professional regulatory bodies, you can count on our expertise for all your business needs.

As tax and the associated penalties become an ever-growing burden for many businesses, we can help you to manage your approach, and achieve your business goals by minimizing the cost of non-compliance penalties and interest.

Risk management

Now more than ever, companies struggle with increased levels of risk to both their operations – and reputations. Those charged with implementing risk management procedures face a daunting task. To help you manage risk better, our team can develop a comprehensive yet practical risk framework using best practice techniques fully integrated with the underlying control environment.

But our assistance doesn't stop there. We'll also work with you in dealing with criminal and civil proceedings, dispute resolution, investigations, forensic IT, insurance claims, and tracing and recovering assets. Plus, our team of specialists focused in your business sector can be a valuable resource in resolving industry-specific issues.

Knowledge management

Are you in the business of selling knowledge and expertise? For many professional service firms, creating and selling of knowledge is an important part of business. Many organizations, however, underestimate the competitive advantage of managing that knowledge effectively. And with today's ever changing world of technology, that can have a huge impact on the bottom line.

Our team of professionals, solely focused on knowledge management, can work with you to assess where your inefficiencies lie, and implement the necessary processes to help you reach your full business potential.
